1. Complaint volume

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) is the first federal agency solely focused on consumer financial protection¹ and consumer complaints² are an integral part of that work. The CFPB's Office of Consumer Response hears directly from consumers about the challenges they face in the marketplace, brings their concerns to the attention of companies, and assists in addressing their complaints. This Monthly Complaint Report provides a high-level snapshot of trends in consumer complaints.

The Monthly Complaint Report uses a three-month rolling average, comparing the current average to the same period in the prior year where appropriate, to account for monthly and seasonal fluctuations. In some cases, we use month-to-month comparisons to highlight more immediate trends. For the company-level complaint data, we use a three-month rolling average of complaints sent to companies for response. This company-level complaint data lags other complaint data in this report by two months to reflect the 60 days companies have to respond to complaints, confirming a commercial relationship with the consumer. This is consistent with complaints found in the public Consumer Complaint Database.³

¹ The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010, Pub. L. No. 111-203 ("Dodd-Frank Act") created the CFPB to protect consumers of financial products or services and to encourage the fair and competitive operation of consumer financial markets.

² Consumer complaints are submissions that express dissatisfaction with, or communicate suspicion of wrongful conduct by, an identifiable entity related to a consumer's personal experience with a financial product or service.

³ This report is based on dynamic data updated nightly and may slightly differ from other public reports. Company-level information should be considered in context of company size. The Bureau is seeking input on ways to enable the public to more easily understand company-level information and make comparisons through a Request for Information. The comment period closes August 31, 2015. <https://federalregister.gov/a/2015-16096>

1.1 Complaint volume by product

As of August 1, 2015, the CFPB has handled approximately 677,200 complaints, including 26,700 complaints in July 2015. Table 1 shows the percentage change in complaint volume by product from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.⁴

TABLE 1: CHANGE IN COMPLAINT VOLUME⁵

	% change	3 month average: May - July 2014	3 month average: May - July 2015
Consumer loan	61%	718	1,154
Credit reporting	45%	3,559	5,159
Money transfer	28%	171	219
Credit card	24%	1,524	1,892
Student loans	12%	568	639
Payday loan	9%	418	454
Mortgage	6%	4,216	4,481
Debt collection	-1%	7,708	7,612
Bank account or services	-4%	1,976	1,895
Total	15%	20,966	24,068

⁴ Complaint totals include all complaints with product breakdowns focusing on the most-complained-about consumer financial products and services. We began accepting complaints about prepaid products and other financial services in July 2014, two months after the relevant comparison period for this report.

⁵ Percentages in Monthly Complaint Report may not sum to 100 percent due to rounding.

- Consumer loan complaints showed the greatest percentage increase from May - July 2014 (718 complaints) to May - July 2015 (1,154 complaints), representing about a 61 percent increase.
- Bank account or services complaints showed the greatest percentage decrease from May - July 2014 (1,976 complaints) to May - July 2015 (1,895 complaints), representing about a 4 percent decline.

Table 2 shows the complaint volume this month by product. The graphic at the end of each row shows the volume trend from when the CFPB began accepting complaints about that product (green dot) to the current month (blue dot). The monthly average reflects complaints handled per month since we began accepting those complaints.⁶

⁶ The CFPB has used a phased-in approach to expand its complaint handling over time to include multiple products and services under its authority. Complaint-handling capacity was expanded as follows: credit card complaints on July 21, 2011, mortgage complaints on December 1, 2011, bank accounts and services, private student loans, and consumer loans on March 1, 2012, credit reporting on October 22, 2012, money transfers on April 4, 2013, debt collection on July 10, 2013, payday loans on November 6, 2013, prepaid cards, credit repair, debt settlement, and pawn and title loans on July 19, 2014, and virtual currency on August 11, 2014. See Table 2.

■ This month ■ Product launch month

⁷ Gray bars show +/- 1 standard deviation for monthly complaints since we began accepting those complaints.

- Credit reporting complaints showed the greatest month-over-month percentage increase (56 percent).
- Mortgage complaints showed the greatest month-over-month percentage decrease (-4 percent).
- For the 23rd consecutive month, we handled more complaints about debt collection than any other type of complaint. Debt collection complaints represented about 31 percent of complaints submitted in July 2015.
- Debt collection, credit reporting, and mortgage complaints continue to be the top three most-complained-about consumer financial products and services, collectively representing about 73 percent of complaints submitted in July 2015.

- Hawaii (37 percent), Maine (36 percent), and Georgia (33 percent) experienced the greatest complaint volume percentage increase from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.
- South Dakota (-31 percent), New Mexico (-16 percent), and Alaska (-11 percent) experienced the greatest complaint volume percentage decrease from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.⁸
- Of the five most populated states, New York (29 percent) experienced the greatest complaint volume percentage increase and Texas (6 percent) experienced the smallest complaint volume percentage increase from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.

⁸ Complaints per 100k population are defined as cumulative complaints divided by Census estimated 2014 population. Census population data source: <http://www.census.gov/popest/data/state/totals/2014/index.html>

1.3 Complaint volume by company

Complaint data in this section lags other complaint data by two months to reflect the 60 days companies have to respond to complaints, confirming a commercial relationship with the consumer. Figure 1 and Table 4 show the top 10 most-complained-about companies for March - May 2015. Figure 1 also shows which products consumers complained about for each company. The “Other” category includes consumer loans, student loans, money transfers, payday loans, prepaid cards, and other financial service complaints. Complaints sent to these companies account for 46 percent of all complaints sent to companies over this period.

- By average monthly complaint volume, Equifax (991), Experian (926), and Bank of America (858) were the most-complained-about companies for March - May 2015.
- Ocwen experienced the greatest percentage decrease in average monthly complaint volume (-27 percent) from March - May 2014 to March - May 2015.

⁹ Monthly average calculated from the month the CFPB first handled complaints for the company. Total complaints represent cumulative complaints sent to companies through May 2015.

2. Product spotlight: Credit reporting

The CFPB has handled approximately 105,500 credit reporting complaints, making credit reporting the third most-complained-about product. In July 2015, credit reporting complaints showed the greatest month-over-month percentage increase (56 percent), and we handled more this month (6,696) than any other month since we began accepting credit reporting complaints.

2.1 Credit reporting complaints by type

Figure 2 shows the types of credit reporting complaints as a percentage of all credit reporting complaints handled. The most common types identified by consumers are incorrect information on credit report (77 percent) and credit reporting company's investigation (9 percent).

- The majority of consumers submitting credit reporting complaints complained about incorrect information on their credit reports. These complaints frequently involve debt collection items on consumers' reports. In some cases, consumers report having paid the debt appearing on their report. In others, they report the debt is no longer due because the debt is too old to be enforced in court, or because the debt belongs to a different consumer, or because they do not recognize the debt.

- Consumers consistently have trouble accessing their credit reports due to rigorous identity authentication questions. If denied access to their report because they failed online authentication, the option available is to mail copies of sensitive, identifying documents, which consumers feel is time-consuming and potentially unsecure.
- Consumers also have difficulty disputing directly with the credit reporting companies. One common issue mentioned is identity theft. Victims of identity theft often encounter difficulty correcting inaccuracies in their reports with both lenders and the credit reporting companies.
- Public records that appear on credit reports (most often records of liens, judgements, and bankruptcies) are a source of concern for some consumers. These consumers frequently mention delays in updating public records, problems correcting inaccurate records, and public records being incorrectly matched to their credit reports.

2.2 Credit reporting complaints by state

Table 5 shows the credit reporting complaint volume percentage change by state. Some of the highlights include:

- Hawaii (279 percent), Iowa (157 percent), and Ohio (120 percent) experienced the greatest percentage increase in credit reporting complaints from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.
- Utah (-56 percent), South Dakota (-39 percent), and Wyoming (-32 percent) experienced the greatest percentage decrease in credit reporting complaints from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.
- Of the five most populated states, New York (118 percent) experienced the greatest percentage increase and Texas (-8 percent) experienced greatest percentage decrease in credit reporting complaints from May - July 2014 to May - July 2015.

2.3 Credit reporting complaints by company

Each month, this section highlights the most-complained-about companies to which we sent complaints. The three national credit reporting companies, Equifax, Experian, and Transunion, received about 97% of all credit reporting complaints sent to companies for response in March - May 2015.

Companies are expected to respond to complaints sent to them within 15 days. If a complaint cannot be closed within 15 days, the company may indicate that its work on the complaint is “In progress” and provide a final response within 60 days. Company responses provided outside of those windows are considered untimely.

March - May 2015 complaints sent to companies

Equifax, Experian, and Transunion received about 97% of all credit reporting complaints sent to companies for response in March - May 2015.¹⁰ Table 6 highlights the companies receiving 98% of these complaints.

¹⁰ Consumers also submit other types of complaints about data furnisners, including complaints referencing issues with how they report information to credit reporting companies.

¹¹ Three-month averages are rounded, and percentage changes are based on non-rounded averages.

3. Geographic spotlight: Los Angeles, California

Each month we spotlight the complaints from one part of the country. This month we are spotlighting Los Angeles. As of August 1, 2015, about 94,000 complaints (14 percent) of the 677,200 complaints we have handled have been from consumers in California. Of complaints from consumers in California, 33,700 (36 percent) are from the Los Angeles, California metro area.¹²

¹² The Los Angeles metro area is defined as zip codes from the Los Angeles-Long Beach-Santa Ana, CA Core-Based Statistical Area (CBSA). http://www.census.gov/population/metro/files/zip07_cbsa06.zip. Complaint counts are based on consumer-provided ZIP code and unless otherwise noted the geographic spotlight section reflects cumulative complaint data since July 21, 2011.

3.1 Los Angeles complaints by product

- Consumers in Los Angeles most often submit mortgage complaints at 35 percent compared to 28 percent nationally.
- Consumers in Los Angeles submit fewer debt collection complaints (22 percent vs. 25 percent) and credit reporting complaints (14 percent vs. 16 percent) than consumers nationally.

3.2 Los Angeles complaints over time

Complaints from consumers in Los Angeles have generally followed the national trend. Average monthly complaints increased 18 percent from May - July 2014 (1,010 complaints per month) to May - July 2015 (1,193 complaints per month), compared to a national 16 percent increase.
