Exploring key financial concepts

When you want to buy something, researching more than one product or brand and comparing features, benefits, and costs can help you better understand your options. Comparison shopping – the practice of comparing prices, features, benefits, risks, and other characteristics of two or more similar products or services – may help you make more informed buying decisions and help you stay within your budget. Comparison shopping is a good practice when you buy anything, but it's especially useful when you buy something expensive.

TIP

Because product prices and features change, students should be encouraged to always look for the most up-to-date information.

Teaching this activity

Whole-class introduction

- Ask students to share if they play video games at home.
- Explain to students that video game companies sometimes will offer subscriptions to let people play their games.

- Introduce students to the idea of comparison shopping and discuss why it can be helpful to do some research when buying expensive items.
- Be sure students understand key vocabulary:
  - Comparison shopping: The practice of comparing prices, features, benefits, risks, and other characteristics of two or more similar products or services.
  - Subscription: An agreement that you make with a company to get a publication or service regularly and that you usually pay for in advance.
