Your Money, Your Goals

Behind on bills? Start with one step.

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
Behind on bills?

When bills are piling up, it’s important to remember that you’re still in control. The small steps you choose to take can lead to big changes.

We created this set of tools to fit your needs, whether that means short-term financial help, longer-term financial health, or something in between. The tools are designed to help you handle money emergencies, cut down on stress from mounting bills, and build your finances to where you want them to be.

You can fix this; we can help. Start with one step.

For more information, you can refer to the full “Your Money, Your Goals” toolkit: cfpb.gov/your-money-your-goals

INCOME TRACKER

Where does all my money come from?

This tool will help you:

- Get a total picture of your income and financial resources
- Remember when all your funds are coming in
- Think about how to plan your expenses to avoid gaps in your ability to pay

What you’ll need:

- All your pay stubs and benefits statements, and records of electronic payments from the month
- Some examples of income: any jobs, self-employment, seasonal work (shoveling, harvesting)
- Some examples of government program benefits: Disability insurance (SSI, SSDI), Social Security, TANF, SNAP
- Other types of income: Child support, gifts, tax refunds, help from family or friends

Start with one question:

How many sources of income do you have?

A step further

Is your income more or less than you thought it was?

Does this feel like a typical month for you?

Wondering about the difference between net and gross income?

Gross income is what you earn before taxes or other deductions are taken from your pay. Net income is your gross income minus taxes and other deductions.

Weekly totals:

Total income for this month:

1. Write in the names of any income and benefits that apply to you.
2. Fill out the table with the amounts you receive each week.
3. Total up each week’s income.
4. Circle the payments that come at a predictable time and amount. This will show you the income you can count on each month.
This tool will help you:

- Track your spending for a month
- Analyze your spending by category
- Identify areas you might cut back on
- Set a goal to keep you on track

What you’ll need:

- All your receipts and bill statements from the month
- Any online records of your spending
- An envelope to keep your receipts in

TIP: There are free apps available to help you track your spending

Start with one question:

How much do you think you spent last month?

A step further

Are you spending money on items you don’t need?

Needs are things you can’t live without, like shelter, utilities, food, clothing, and transportation. Needs may also include obligations: things you have to pay, like debt, child support, alimony, and student loans. Wants, however, are things you can choose to live without.

This tool will help you:

- Get a total picture of your monthly bills
- Identify the weeks when you have the most money due
- Plan how to pay your bills on time and avoid late fees
- Remember when your bills are coming up

What you’ll need:

- All your bill statements from a single month
- Statements of any bills that are online

Some examples of bills: utilities, rent or mortgage, phone, memberships, cable, credit cards, car payments, student loans, child support, insurance

Start with one question:

When you pay your bills on time, how do you feel?

A step further:

- Balancing act. Enter your weekly income into the calendar to compare with your weekly bill totals.
- Other expenses. Don’t forget things like birthday, holiday, and school expenses, or bills that are due every few months or once a year.
- Top of mind. You can use this calendar as a daily reminder—just pin it up where you’ll see it!

One thing I’m going to try next month:
Use this bill calendar to see all your bills and when they’re due.

1. Label the calendar with the dates of the month you want to plan for.
2. Make a list of all your bills.
3. For each bill, mark the payment date: 7 days before the due date for mail, 2 days before the due date for online.
4. Enter when you receive income into the calendar.

This tool will help you:

- Identify the things that really matter to you
- Work toward a future that includes those things
- Track your progress
- Take pride in making life better for you and your family

What to do:

1. Pick a statement that interests you
2. Write down your goal
3. Share your goal with someone who will hold you to it

Start with one question:

How have you helped someone else reach a goal?

A step further

Create an action plan. Think about how long it will realistically take you to reach your goal. Then, make an action plan and stick to it. Don’t forget to list any resources that might help you. For example, you might seek out information, tools and equipment, professional assistance, a loan, or find transportation.

SHORT-TERM STRATEGIES
How can I get extra money out of my situation?

This tool will help you:

- Earn more by taking on work or charging for services
- Get money quickly by selling stuff or expanding your benefits
- Spend better by developing habits that save you money
- Cut costs by avoiding fees or canceling memberships

Think about this:

If you run out of money before the end of the month, think about ways you can increase income and decrease spending. This tool has prompts that can put you on the path toward more money in and less money out. Share options you’ve identified with others in your household and build your plan together.

Start with one question:

What’s something that people say you’re good at?

A step further

- Borrow DVDs and CDs for free at your local public library.
  TIP: Don’t forget to return them on time to avoid late fees.
- Maintain your car: Keeping up on oil changes and tire pressure can save you money on fuel and repair costs.
- See if you can increase the deductible on your car insurance to lower monthly payments.
- Pay parking tickets and other fines on time to avoid additional charges.
- When buying groceries, check the price label for cost per serving.
  TIP: Sometimes larger quantities don’t actually save money.
- Consider restaurants with “Kids Eat Free” nights.
  TIP: Make sure you know what each offer includes.
- Look for sales and coupons for things you need.
- Check to see if you qualify for weatherization incentives or programs for your house.

By bringing in more money or resources and spending less, I want to free up:

Prioritizing Bills

How do I make tough choices in tight months?

This tool will help you:

- Understand what might happen if you fall behind on your obligations
- Assess the tradeoffs in your situation
- Make a plan to pay this month’s most important bills

What you’ll need:

- Bill statements and overdue notices
- Any letters from creditors that threaten possible eviction, repossession, default, or discontinuation of service

Start with one question:

How do you decide which bill to pay first?

A step further:

If you have to miss a payment, try calling your creditors to tell them why. You may be able to make short-term arrangements. For example, if you are in good standing with your creditors, they may be willing to forgive the occasional fee.

If you find you’re often late with a particular bill, negotiate a new due date to better line it up with the dates you receive income or benefits.

Timing matters. The consequences for paying bills late can vary depending on how late you are. For example, utility and credit card payments received within 30 days of their due dates typically don’t affect your credit report. After 60 days, however, your credit card company may choose to raise the interest rate on your balances, which can make it take longer to pay off what you owe.

One strategy is to rotate the bills you pay each month. While not ideal, this can prevent you from losing your car or house, having a utility shut off, or getting into serious default on a loan.

Additional resources:

You may also wish to contact a certified housing or a credit counselor to help you build a plan to pay your debts.

HUD Office of Housing Counseling: 800.569.4287

National Foundation for Credit Counseling: 800.388.2227
Weigh the risk of not paying certain bills right now.

Things I need to keep or get a job
- Transportation to get to work–car payment, gas and insurance, or bus fare
- Tools or uniform for work
- Childcare
- __________________________

Things I need to stay housed and keep utilities connected
- Rent or mortgage, property taxes if I own my home
- Utilities–gas, electric, water, sewer
- __________________________

Tip: The costs of losing a place to live add up fast, and late payments on your mortgage or an eviction can make it harder to find a new place if you need one.

Insurance I need to pay for
- Car insurance—is required in most states
- Health insurance
- Home or renters’ insurance
- __________________________

Obligations I need to pay
- Court-ordered obligations such as child support or fines
- Other loans and credit cards
- __________________________

Tip: Consider any legal consequences for delaying payment, and remember that credit card companies may raise your interest rates if you pay more than 60 days late.

Now prioritize your bills.

Ultimately, you’re responsible for all your bills. If you can’t pay them all at once, think about the order you pay them in.

DEALING WITH DEBT COLLECTORS

How do I respond to a debt collector?

This tool will help you:

- Take actions to verify whether the debt is valid
- Know how to dispute the debt if you do not owe it
- Know what to do next if you do owe the debt

Know your rights:

A debt collector cannot:

- Call repeatedly to harass or abuse you
- Use obscene language
- Make a false or misleading statement about what you owe
- Publish your name for not paying a debt
- Lie to you

If debt collectors harass you, they may be violating the law.

Need to submit a complaint?

Start with one question:

Are debt collectors contacting you?

This booklet references third-party resources or content that consumers may find helpful. The inclusion of links or references to third-party sites does not necessarily reflect the CFPB’s endorsement of the third-party, the views expressed on the outside site, or products or services offered on the outside site. The CFPB has not vetted these third-parties, their content, or any products or services they may offer. There may be other possible entities or resources that are not listed that may also serve your needs.
If a debt collector contacts you, don’t ignore it!

Ask for information.

If you’re not sure about the debt or the amount, ask for more information (or send a letter or the form to the right).

☐ Collector’s name and address
☐ Original creditor’s name and address
☐ Account number
☐ Amount owed
☐ When account became delinquent
☐ When collector obtained the debt and the amount it was then
☐ Whether the debt’s statute of limitations has expired (and you can no longer be sued for the debt)
☐ Documentation proving you’re required to pay
☐ A copy of the last bill

Be cautious. No matter what debt collectors say, you don’t have to give sensitive info like your full Social Security or bank account numbers.

Keep records. Write down dates, times, and notes for every call. Save everything debt collectors send you and the original copies of anything you send them. These will help if you have a dispute or go to court.

Resolve.

If the debt is not legitimate, don’t delay in disputing the debt! Send the debt collector a letter (or use the form to the right) disputing the debt immediately. You may lose your ability to dispute the debt if you wait until after a court issues judgment.

If the debt is legitimate, don’t despair! At least now you know what you’re dealing with. You still have options:

▪ Try to settle with the debt collector for a smaller amount that will fully resolve the account. (You can do this yourself by contacting the collector.)
▪ OR, negotiate a payment plan that will give you more time to pay down your debt.
▪ OR, pay the debt in full and move on.

If you’re sued by a debt collector, be sure to respond to court documents. If you don’t respond, the court will usually assume you agree with what the creditor says, and issue a money judgment against you. You may want an attorney to advise or represent you at the hearing.
These resources may help you:
- Pay utility bills
- Find a job or benefits
- Deal with debt
- Get a response from banks and debt collectors
- Find a lawyer
- Explore health care programs

What to do:
1. Add any relevant local resources
2. Photocopy and cut into eight referral cards
3. Keep the cards in your wallet or a handy place

Start with one question:
Is there anything else you’re concerned about?

---

A step further

Make sure you get unbiased information. It’s important to get accurate, up-to-date information. Unbiased individuals and organizations 1) do not try to sell you products and services, 2) do not ask for payment up front, 3) are able to show you the impact any actions you take may have on your financial situation.

Key questions for additional resources:

| 1. Does this individual or organization earn revenue by selling financial products or services? | Y N |
| 2. Does it require cash up-front? | Y N |
| 3. Has the state Attorney General’s Office or Better Business CFPB, or another entity taken action against it? | Y N |
| 4. Can it provide references? | Y N |
| 5. Will it provide unbiased information and not try to sell you financial products or services? | Y N |
| 6. Do you know anyone personally whom it has helped? | Y N |

If the answer to 1, 2, or 3 is “yes,” consider finding a different source of information.

If the answer to 4, 5, or 6 is “no,” consider a different place to seek information.
